

EDITH GROSSMAN

1936 - 2023

Edith Grossman, born in Pennsylvania in 1936, was a highly acclaimed American translator, renowned for her significant contributions to the translation of Spanish-language literature into English. With a Ph.D. in Spanish literature from New York University, Grossman's distinguished career includes translating iconic works such as "Don Quixote", where her emphasis on fidelity to the original text and clarity garnered critical acclaim.

Beyond Cervantes, she brought the works of Nobel Prize-winning author Gabriel García Márquez to English readers, showcasing her ability to capture the nuances of magical realism. Grossman's translations are characterized by their accessibility, preserving the cultural and literary richness of the source material while making it engaging for a broader audience. Her profound impact on the field and commitment to bridging linguistic and cultural gaps have solidified her reputation as one of the foremost translators of Spanish literature into English.

NOTABLE TRANSLATIONS

- "Don Quixote" - Miguel de Cervantes
- "Love in the Time of Cholera" - Gabriel García Márquez
- "The Solitudes" - Luis de Góngora
- "The Golden Age" - José María de Pereda

Would you like to find out more about Edith Grossman?
You can get more information simply by scanning the QR code!

LARÍN SUSAM
2020270048

