

FUAT SEVİMAY

Fuat Sevimay, born in 1972, is a distinguished Turkish writer and translator. He has garnered awards for his stories compiled in "Ara Nağme" and his children's book "Haydar Pasha's House." Sevimay is recognized for translating works by notable authors like James Joyce and Luigi Pirandello. His novel "Grand Bazaar" and the dramatization of "AnarŞık" have also earned acclaim. Sevimay's translation of James Joyce's "Finnegans Wake" received prestigious awards in 2017. Beyond his creative pursuits, he shares his expertise through lectures on Turkish literature and translation, and he has contributed to the field with a book on translation called "Çeviri'Bilirsin." Overall, Sevimay's career encompasses literary achievements, awards, and a dedication to educating others in literature and translation.

"PARAYI VEREN DÜDÜĞÜ ÇALAR."
"MONEY TALKS, BULLSHIT WALKS"

— read more —

